Number of students at the receiving institution benefiting from the teaching programme: 12

Number of teaching hours (minimum 8h per 5 days): 8 Language of Instruction (at receiving institution): German

Overall objectives of the mobility:

- contributing to international teaching programme of host university (complementary content / different approaches)
- contributing to academic life at host university
- creating international learning experience for students at partner institution
- enhancing the motivation of non-mobile students to study abroad
- exchanging of innovative teaching practices

Added value of the mobility (in the context of the modernisation and internationalisation strategies of the institutions involved):

- strengthening contacts with host institution, host faculty, teachers and staff in order to increase cooperation
- discussion and preparation of future cooperation and future ERASMUS+ activites
- insight into university system of host country and comparison of curricula; impetus for curriculum development
- getting to know teaching methods at host university with view to improving teaching practice
- promotion of student exchange between both institutions with a view to increasing quality and quantity
- fostering of international research cooperation and international academic networks

Content of the teaching programme (title and course description):

Seminar on Central and Eastern Europe in Post-War German Literature: In this seminar, we will discuss the literary representation of Cenral and Eastern European culture in literary texts by Celan, Grass and Herta Müller.

Workshop on future research and teaching co-operation between the German departments in Cluj and $\operatorname{Regensburg}$.

Expected outcomes and impact (e.g. on the professional development of the teaching staff members and on the competences of students at both institutions):

- gaining teaching experience in an international context
- strengthening of intercultural competence of all parties involved
- students at host institution become accquainted with a wider rage of topics and gain an international perspective on field of studies
- students of home institution will benefit from international experience of their teachers
